€3 million in Awards Announced for 51 COVID-19 Community Response Projects by Rethink Ireland Innovate Together Fund

A COVID-19 mobile health unit, an island fisheries app, a youth mental health signposting tool and a neonatal unit virtual tour and classroom are among fifty-one projects to receive €3 million Innovate Together Fund from Rethink Ireland

€3 million in awards has been announced for 51 projects in the first phase of Rethink Ireland's Innovate Together Fund, after 481 projects applied for grants from the €5.6 million Fund.

Following a competitive selection process which saw 481 projects apply, the 51 best projects have been chosen to receive cash grants of between €20,000 and €200,000 to support their innovative responses to the COVID-19 pandemic. These projects will also receive a non-financial business support package.

The Government of Ireland, through the Department of Rural and Community Development (via the Dormant Accounts Fund), committed €5M to the Innovate Together Fund as part of a €40M support package to the community and voluntary sector in May. Rethink Ireland have since received additional donations from the Z Zurich Foundation, Medtronic, Twitter and Oakfield Trust. The Fund supports charities' innovative responses to the COVID-19 crisis that will also provide lasting change.

Deirdre Mortell CEO of Rethink Ireland said:

“We are delighted to announce these 51 Awardees today under the first phase of the Innovate Together Fund. In these times of extraordinary crisis, the invention and imagination shown by the 481 applicants and 51 Awardees is remarkable. The projects cover the spectrum from physical and mental health supports, to online education, community outreach, sustainability, food security and reskilling our workforce. It is phenomenal to see the depth and breadth of innovation in Ireland at the moment. Our Fund remains open for philanthropic donations to increase the funds available in Round 2.”

Minister Heather Humphreys TD, Minister for Social Protection and Community and Rural Development said:

“I would like to extend my congratulations to the first 51 Awardees of the Innovate Together Fund announced today by Rethink Ireland. This fund is supported by my Department via the Dormant Accounts Fund. The successful projects announced today really showcase the amazing ways that all communities across Ireland are innovating in response to the social challenges presented by COVID-19.”

The Z Zurich Foundation, a charitable foundation established by Zurich Insurance Company Ltd and Zurich Life Insurance Company Ltd, has committed €500,000 to the Innovate Together Fund as part of its global COVID-19 response.

Anthony Brennan, CEO, Zurich Ireland said:

“Backed by the Z Zurich Foundation, Zurich in Ireland is very proud to work together with Rethink Ireland to implement innovative social projects that help build resilience in communities, as they adapt to the challenges of the COVID-19 crisis.”

Innovate Together €3 million Fund Awardees include the following:

Safetynet Primary Care Mobile COVID-19 Testing Unit

People living in congregated settings such as Direct Provision sites and the homeless population have a higher incidence rate of COVID-19, posing a risk to a population already more susceptible to illnesses.

Safetynet, a medical charity working with homeless and marginalised people in Ireland, aims to scale their reconfigured COVID-19 services in the form of a mobile consultation bus or unit where on-site testing will be possible.

Patients will also be triaged remotely providing additional support to Public Health requests related to COVID-19 outbreaks. Safetynet is also the only community service that will employ the rapid-testing device GeneXpert to immediately identify positive cases with the ability to then transport the patient off-site for treatment.

Safetynet is currently daily engaged in mobile COVID-19 testing all over Ireland.

IIMRO-Abalobi Fisheries App

Irish Islands Marine Resource Organisation Cooperative Society Limited (IIMRO)

Markets which usually take fish and shellfish from offshore island fisheries have collapsed over the last number of years and worsened dramatically due to COVID-19.

As a result, most island-based fishers cannot sell their catch and are completely dependent on emergency COVID payments. The lack of income or alternative support for fishers will have a disproportionate impact on fishery-dependent island communities.

The project consists of the development of an innovative and integrated online and phone app system that will facilitate small scale fishers to log their catch and direct sales to consumers, of traceable fish and shellfish from the islands.

The programme aims to promote traceable, storied seafood by empowering small-scale fishers from catch to customer, in a manner that is not only ecologically responsible, but also socially fair. This will ensure access to market and income generation for fishers in the area. The IIMRO-Abalobi app partnership will see the first rollout of the system in Europe and promises to make major changes to the way catches are documented and sold.

The app was first developed in South Africa and this will be the first time it is partnered with in Europe.

The funding will be used to adapt the app suite to the Irish requirements for species, sales notes and reporting. The investment will also cover costs associated with marketing, recruiting and enrolling fishers and customers onto the system.

SpunOut Dynamic Mental Health Signposting Tool:

Demand from young people for SpunOut.ie information resources have increased by 60% and anxiety related conversations with Crisis Text Line have increased by 100%. Young people are struggling to stay hopeful, to engage in protective behaviours and to have their basic needs met. Over a quarter have lost work and 20% report using alcohol to cope. From research conducted with 1,300 young people in Ireland aged 16-25 at the end of April (2020), a third reported they will need some form of mental health support as we emerge from this crisis.

The Dynamic Mental Health Signposting tool will help SpunOut.ie's 150,000 monthly readers to explain what they are feeling or the situation they are in, and quickly refine a list of signposts and results personal to them. This will include signposting to a specific service, instant connection on Live Chat to a youth worker, instantly starting a conversation with a Crisis Volunteer, or providing a self-help factsheet or app referral.

This investment will primarily fund database curation and technical development, hosting and software costs as well as project management and digital marketing costs.

Neonatal Virtual Classroom - National Maternity Hospital

COVID-19 has had a huge impact on the access parents have to their premature babies. The premi ward has had to limit parental access to babies to 2 in every 24 hours. NMH usually trains and coaches parents in Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) procedures as parental care is a vital part of premature survival. This has not been possible with the restrictions of COVID-19.

Their solution is to develop an online resource/portal to deliver a virtual tour of the neonatal unit to a mum who is about to deliver prematurely so that she does not have to physically visit the unit. It will cover information such as what an incubator/heart monitor looks like, provide interviews with a nurse/doctor and provide stories from other parents who went through the same experience. This project is informed by the success of the virtual classroom that has been set up on the NMH website for 'normal' pregnancies. NMH is the centre for maternal health for patients across Ireland and when there is a complication, mothers are referred to NMH. It is therefore a national service and up to 20% of all pregnancies will require specialist care. The virtual classroom has been piloted (since COVID-19) for normal pregnancies, this project will apply to similar platforms, but needs specialist content.

In 2018, a booklet was developed to provide guidance on caring for premature babies. The funding would be used to adopt this content and utilise the learning from the previous version of the virtual classroom. It will enable the NMH to provide support to the 12,000 women annually who experience complications during pregnancy.

1. Community Outreach

ActionAid Ireland - AFTER

ActionAid Ireland works for social justice and supports women and children in poverty across the world. Adapting AFTER (Against Female Genital Mutilation through Empowerment and Rejection) to work online means women and girls are still empowered to reject this inhumane practice and advance their human rights at this challenging time.

AMAL - ACOP

AMAL is a Muslim women-led organisation bringing hope to the lives of all marginalised women in Dublin, regardless of faith or culture. With many even more isolated and cut off right now, ACOP (AMAL Community Outreach Project) provides a phone line service to help women and young people from ethnic minorities and reach out to vulnerable and marginalised families living in direct provision centres.

Clare Immigrant Support Centre – Clare Immigrant Support Project

Clare Immigrant Support Centre ensures access to appropriate state and community services and upholds the rights and entitlements of all immigrants living and working in County Clare. Clare Immigrant Support Project works especially with asylum seekers and refugees with a particular focus on vulnerable immigrant communities.

Community Work Ireland – Collective Action in an Era of Social Distancing

Community Work Ireland is a national organisation that promotes and supports community work to address poverty and social inequality. With its success so dependent on human interaction, Collective Action in an Era of Social Distancing will develop ways to effectively practice community work in marginalised communities in this new COVID-19 reality.

Gay Community News (GCN) – Digital Series; Connecting During COVID-19

Gay Community News (GCN) is Ireland's national monthly free LGBT+ press. With togetherness so important to the LGBT+ community, GCN Digital Series - Connecting during COVID-19 is an innovative digital festival that has been developed to educate and inform Ireland's LGBT+ community and connect with those in rural and remote settings isolated by the COVID-19 pandemic.

HIV Ireland - Peer Support Network for People Living with HIV

HIV Ireland is a not-for-profit organisation that advocates for those living with HIV, preventing new HIV infections and combating HIV-related stigma and discrimination. Its new project Peer Support Network for People Living with HIV is a HIV peer support programme that will provide ongoing, locally accessible help and information, at a time when COVID-19 is compounding issues and worsening feelings of isolation for people with HIV.

The Irish Refugee Council – Digital Drop-In Centre

The Irish Refugee Council supports people fleeing persecution and those recognised as refugees in Ireland. With face-to-face contact now difficult, or even impossible in some situations, the Digital Drop-In Centre project provides information, support and legal representation to clients in an online setting, as well as through one-to-one phone and video consultations.

Rape Crisis Network Ireland – Clinical Innovation Programme

Rape Crisis Network Ireland (RCNI) is a specialist information and resource centre on all forms of sexual violence. The RCNI Clinical Innovation Programme will bring together the collective learning, innovations and skills needed to transform the rape crisis model for a COVID-19 world in which reaching out to and meeting with survivors in a personal setting presents new challenges.

Safetynet Primary Care – COVID Cluster Rapid Response

Safetynet Primary Care is a medical charity delivering quality care to those marginalised in society without access to healthcare. COVID Cluster Rapid Response pursues and suppresses COVID-19 clusters in congregated groups, limiting the spread in environments such as homeless hostels and direct provision centres, safeguarding vulnerable people's health.

Uplift – Get Ahead

Uplift is an independent, people-powered campaigning community that takes action for progressive change across Ireland to create a better society. Get Ahead tackles the urgent need for stronger digital democracy and digital literacy to address polarisation and extremism so evident in our society today, which will only increase, given the chance, with our dependence on digital due to COVID-19.

2. Online Education

AsIAM – Autism Friendly Transition to Higher Education

AsIAM is Ireland's national autism charity and advocacy organisation, working to deliver real inclusion and understanding for all. Autism Friendly Transition to Higher Education will develop quality online resources to help autistic students transition smoothly into third-level with online learning tools to prepare them for college life and build day-to-day living skills

Embracing Diversity, Nurturing Inclusion, Learning for Life Project

The Embracing Diversity, Nurturing Inclusion, Learning for Life Project (EDNIP) is a partnership between 5 schools (TED Project, Curriculum Development Unit, Mary Immaculate College, the Limerick and Clare Education & Training Board, Limerick Education Centre, Limerick City & County Council and Tusla). The Learning for Life Project promotes and supports the integration of migrant children and families into school and community life, working across five DEIS Band 1 primary schools in Limerick city. Its transferable school-based integration model is informed by consultation, effective collaboration and international best practice.

LIFT Ireland – Youth Programme

LIFT Ireland is a not-for-profit, fully inclusive initiative that equips and empowers each one of us to become a better leader. The Youth Programme equips transition year students with the tools of values-based leadership to create positive behaviour change and sow the seeds for wider transformational change and a better Ireland.

NUI Galway – Schooling at Home, Bridging Worlds

NUI Galway ranks among the top 1% of universities in the world and has earned international recognition as a research-led university committed to top quality teaching. Along with our project partner Foróige, the 'Schooling at Home – Bridging

Worlds' project will bridge the future gap between formal and non-formal learning, creating safe learning spaces for young people post COVID-19.

Raheen Wood ALFA (Active Learning For Adolescents)

Raheen Wood ALFA (Active Learning For Adolescents) is an award-winning social enterprise created by parents and educators in East Clare. It offers an educational alternative for secondary-age students in an area where one in ten fails to complete the Junior Cycle. ALFA has developed a style of online education which maintains its holistic, experiential, project-based approach.

Trinity Access (TCD) – Tech2Students

Trinity Access (TCD) supports those from areas with low progression rates to higher education to reach their full educational potential. Tech2Students is a collaboration between Trinity Access and Camara Education Ireland. It encourages individuals and companies to donate unused technology, and buys repurposed technology, for use by students in marginalised groups such as those in direct provision, the Traveller community and second-level students in DEIS schools.

3. Food Security

Irish Islands Marine Resource Organisation (IIMRO) - Abalobi

The Irish Islands Marine Resource Organisation (IIMRO) represents Irish island communities to address the many challenges facing their fishing livelihood. The IIMRO-Abalobi project tackles the market collapse for small scale fishers caused by COVID-19 with technology that makes fully traceable, sustainably caught seafood from Irish island communities available directly to consumers.

Irish Seed Savers – Saving Seeds for Ireland’s Food Future

Irish Seed Savers (ISS) is the primary food seed grower in Ireland. Food accessibility and security is vital for a secure society. With growing awareness of climate change and fear of limitations in our food supply which were highlighted during the COVID-19 crisis, Saving Seeds for Ireland's Food Future aims to work with food growers and hobby gardeners to reduce Ireland’s reliance on imported food and food seed.

Raheen Family Resource Centre – Growing Together

Raheen Family Resource Centre develops community gardens in areas of high unemployment with the aim to secure access to healthy food and reduce food poverty. Growing Together is an ethical initiative with aims to increase the number of community fruit and vegetable gardens, improve social wellbeing and better the understanding of living a healthy lifestyle.

4. Mental Health

Care After Prison – Peer Mentor Support & Training

Care After Prison (CAP) is a peer-led criminal justice charity that supports those affected by imprisonment, namely prisoners and their families. Peer Mentor Support & Training is at the heart of the services CAP provides, educating, employing and empowering former offenders, to make positive changes so they can reintegrate into society.

CARMHA – Connection and Recovery in Mental Health & Addiction

CARMHA is a free support service in North Tipperary, and the only community-based service in rural Ireland that addresses the complex needs of people with both mental health and addiction issues. The Connection And Recovery in Mental Health & Addiction service provides professional counselling and offers peer support from people with lived experience who have already benefited from it and truly understand the path travelled.

Foróige – Ourspace E-Mentoring Platform

Foróige enables young people to involve themselves consciously and actively in their own development and the development of society. The Ourspace E- Mentoring Platform will be developed to connect young people with adult mentors online, safely and securely, and participate in growth-related, character-building activities based around their shared interests.

The Irish Advocacy Network – Remote Peer Advocacy in Mental Health

The Irish Advocacy Network offers peer-to-peer advocacy, information and confidential support to those voluntarily residing or detained in mental health acute units, by promoting recovery, self-advocacy and improved quality of life. With peer advocates unable to travel to meet clients, due to COVID-19, their project Remote Peer Advocacy in Mental Health ensures that this unique service is being delivered via telephone and video calls.

Jigsaw – The Jigsaw Schools Hub

Jigsaw is the National Centre for Youth Mental Health and delivers early intervention and prevention mental health services and supports for young people. The Jigsaw Schools Hub is an interactive, online support service providing schools with resources to build the capacity of school leadership, teachers, students and parents to better promote and support mental health and wellbeing.

Lucena Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS) – Accessible Assessment

Lucena Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS) provides mental health services to a population of over 160,000 children and young people. In line with COVID-19 guidelines, Accessible Assessment will employ digital assessment technology so cognitive, speech and language assessments for children and young people with co-occurring psychiatric conditions can resume.

Meath Travellers' Workshop – COVID-19 Fighting Back Project

Meath Travellers' Workshop (MTW) is a voluntary community development organisation that works for equality. The MTW COVID-19 Fighting Back Project addresses community increases in depression, domestic violence and low self-esteem and is aimed at supporting Traveller men and women in rebuilding pride, confidence and mental health damaged by the pandemic.

SpunOut – Dynamic Signposting Tool

SpunOut.ie is Ireland's youth wellbeing information website, developed by young people for young people, and empowers them to make informed decisions and positive change in their own lives and communities. The Dynamic Signposting Tool will help match vulnerable young people with targeted supports and services tailored to their specific circumstances and needs.

Wellness Recovery Action Plan - WRAP

The Wellness Recovery Action Plan (WRAP®) project located at the Student Health Unit in NUI Galway, places students at the centre of their own mental health and wellbeing journey, empowering them to make positive changes and live the lives they want to live. This project is a partnership between NUI Galway WRAP® - a prevention and wellness process that supports students to overcome their mental health issues - and Creidim - a follow up student peer support group.

5. Sustainable Ireland

Burrenbeo Trust - Áitbheo

Burrenbeo Trust is a charity dedicated to reconnecting us with our landscape and our role in caring for it. Currently being developed into an interactive online programme, in line with social distancing requirements, Áitbheo is a comprehensive, activity-focused educational resource that connects children and young people today with their local heritage and environment.

Cyclist.ie - #ChangeOurStreets

Cyclist.ie – The Irish Cycling Advocacy Network – promotes cycling as a more normal and healthy part of the everyday transport system. #ChangeOurStreets takes inspiration from the most cycle-friendly countries around Europe to make cycling attractive to those choosing to avoid buses, trams and trains and travel in a socially distant, healthier manner in response to COVID-19.

ECO-UNESCO – ECO-WEEK

ECO-UNESCO is Ireland's Environmental Education & Youth Organisation that works to conserve the environment and empower young people. The ECO-WEEK is a week-long initiative that includes a series of environmental online events as well as workshops, talks, training and much more.

Global Action Plan Ireland – Climate Action Now! Online

Global Action Plan Ireland supports schools, communities and businesses to make more sustainable choices through educational programmes across Ireland. Climate

Action Now! Online navigates around restrictions due to COVID-19 and takes the programme digital and online, enabling schools to access educational resources, activities and workshops on water, waste, climate change, biodiversity and Global Citizenship.

Green-Schools – Food & Biodiversity Project

Green-Schools is Ireland's most successful school environmental management programme. Its Food & Biodiversity project provides schools with the materials, supports and training to bring quality food education into the classroom, encouraging students to explore the local and global impacts of diet and positively create change in their school community.

Green Sod Ireland

Green Sod Ireland (GSI) is a land and biodiversity trust with gifted Wild Acres in its care - creating safe habitats, facilitating the free movement of wildlife vital for biodiversity all over Ireland. By providing ecological education, GSI aims to improve awareness of the importance of these Wild Acres and its link to climate change.

6. Reskilling the Workforce

Coláiste Gharumna

Coláiste Gharumna is a not-for-profit Gaeltacht college that provides Gaeltacht courses for teachers and trainee teachers who received their qualifications abroad. The college provides an alternative to traditional classroom-based learning and teaching by creating an online educational platform that can work alongside the challenges that COVID-19 presents and offer new online programs & training in renewable retrofit technologies.

Cultúr – The Upskilling Project

Cultúr is a community organisation working in Meath and its surrounding counties supporting ethnic minorities at risk of poverty, social exclusion and racism. The Upskilling Project assists migrants who have lost their jobs and are looking to retrain and improve their employability in these challenging times.
